BACKGROUND INFO

'The Man Who Can't Be Moved' was the second single release from The Script's self-titled debut album. The song reached no.2 in the UK, Irish, and Danish singles charts. In the US, it reached no.15 in the Billboard Adult Top 40 chart and no. 17 in the Billboard Adult Alternative Song chart. Despite its relatively low charting in the US, the single gained popularity through its use in Victoria's Secret Fashion Show 2009.

'The Man Who Can't Be Moved' tells the story of a man who is longing for the girl he loves to return to the spot where they first met. The video features singer Danny O'Donoghue drawing a crowd as he sings of being 'a broken man', enticing listeners on the street with a haunting and mysterious quality to his voice.

The Script formed in Dublin in 2007 and consist of lead vocalist and keyboardist Danny O'Donoghue, lead guitarist Mark Sheehan, and drummer Glen Power. They are supported live by Benjamin Sargeant on bass and Luke Juby on keyboards. Guitarist and bassist Paul Inder and keyboardist Rodney Alejandro have also collaborated with the band.

The Script recorded and toured four albums back to back, starting with their debut album The Script, but unfortunately had to take a break in 2015 due to illness. In late 2016, with their singer fully recovered after some necessary throat surgery, the band returned to the studio and produced a new album – Freedom Child. Back to full health, they went on to tour the album in 2017.

The Script's music has featured on a number of high profile TV shows such as 90210, Ghost Whisperer, The Hills, Waterloo Road, EastEnders, Made in Chelsea and The Vampire Diaries. Singer Danny O'Donoghue was also a coach for the BBC's The Voice UK in seasons 1 and 2.

The Script have sold over 30 million records since the beginning of their career. Their 2010 album Science & Faith was their highest US album release, reaching no. 3 in the Billboard Album charts.
